LIEUT. HENRY WEBB

AVIATOR KILLED WHEN HIS
AEROPLANE FALLS IN MED-
FORD, OREGON, IN TAIL SPIN

It was a great shock to Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lee and other friends of Lieut. Henry Webb, when a telegram was received Tuesday afternoon announcing the death of the aviator in a fall at Medford, Oregon. Only the day before good-byes had been said to the lieutenant's wife who was returning to her pretty home in San Diego to await the return of her husband after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Henry, here. Telephone communication was secured with a close friend of Mrs. Webb's in San Diego, who broke the news to her and Mrs. Henry left at once for that city with the intention of bringing her daughter back to Glendale where the body of the aviator will be brought for burial.

All through the war Lieutenant Webb was at Rockwell Field, part of the time as an instructor, part of the time as an official investigator of airplane accidents and their causes. When fires broke out in the forests of the north he was ordered to Oregon for airplane patrol service. His duties in that connection had ended and he was about to return to his San Diego home. Details of the accident have not yet been received beyond the fact that his machine descended in a tail spin and it is surmised that he struck an air pocket.

Lieutenant Webb was very well known in Glendale, where he resided for a time with his aunt, Mrs. C. C. Butterfield, a former resident of this city. He was then a member of the choir of the First Methodist Church in which the girl he afterwards married, Miss Marian Henry, was organist. Few young men have been more highly regarded by friends and associates and his tragic death has cast a gloom over the circles in which he was best known in this city. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

NEW METHODIST PASTORS

Rev. Charles H. Scott, who has been pastor of the First Methodist Church of this city for the past year, speaks with enthusiasm of his successor in this field, Rev. Clyde M. Crist, who has been the pastor of Lake Avenue Methodist Church, Pasadena. He has filled a number of prominent pulpits in Southern California, including the Pomona Methodist Church and for five years he was pastor of the Vincent M. E. Church in Los Angeles. He was graduated from the University of Southern California, is a doctor of divinity and is of the Macclay School of Theology. His family consists of his wife and a son who is a senior in Pasadena High. In order to be graduated there he will have to continue his course and probably go from here.

Rev. Marion Smith, who comes to Central Avenue Methodist Church, is a young man who has recently gotten out of army service and decided to enter the ministry. He was part way through a law course when he entered the army, but during the war decided that the ministry was the place in which he could best serve humanity. He was married recently to a daughter of Dr. Byron H. Wilson, superintendent of the Los Angeles District. He is a very gifted young man and his wife is a fine singer.

ENTERTAIN OLD SCHOOL FRIENDS

Dr. and Mrs. R. V. Hogue of 230 West Colorado entertained at dinner a few evenings ago in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hughes, of Los Angeles, who were old schoolfellows of theirs and who are on the eve of leaving the Angel City for the Imperial Valley. The guest list included Mr. Tuck, brother-in-law of the hostess recently arrived, and Mrs. Tuck, who are looking around Southern California with a view to locating when they find just the kind of property they want to buy. Of course, they are hoping and so are their relatives that it will be found in the neighborhood of Glendale, as they like our little city very much.

MRS. JOSEPH EXPECTS SON

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Joseph have taken an apartment in the De Luxe building at the corner of Brand and California, which they will occupy until they take possession of their new home on North Orange street which will be about Thanksgiving time. Mrs. Joseph goes to San Bernardino Thursday to visit friends and attend a birthday celebration. She is expecting the arrival of her son, Gerald Conrad, some time in the near future as his ship left Philadelphia for this coast last week. He is now on a destroyer.

REV. C. H. SCOTT

HAS BEEN MADE SUPERINTEN-
DENT OF BIG M. E. ENCAMP-
MENT TO BE FOUNDED

As there has been much inquiry relative to the work to which Rev. Charles H. Scott has been assigned by the Southern California Methodist Conference, he was interviewed at his home and explained that he has been called to a work which will challenge all his abilities and which he is glad to undertake, but which also causes him some regret as it will end his work as a pastor in which he has been brought into close personal relationships and make of him a roamer at large.

In explaining the change, he said: "The work to which I have been appointed now is the superintendency of our summer assembly. For some years we have had an enterprise down at Huntington Beach. I have been secretary of the Board of Directors for ten years. We have been feeling that we ought to be doing much bigger things and have made up our minds to take active steps to build an institution comparable with the one at Ocean Grove in New Jersey. That is the center of Methodism on the Atlantic coast and it has just rounded out its fiftieth year. It is open all summer and has an auditorium which seats 7000 people and one of the finest pipe organs in the world. The auditorium is surrounded by other buildings and thousands upon thousands of people summer there from all over the east and south. For years it was a tradition that the President of the United States visited it at least once during the summer. Many of the outstanding (Continued on Page 3)

DREYERS RETURN TO GLENDALE

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dreyer and family, who have been residing in Montebello for the past two years, have returned to Glendale and are occupying the same house they formerly leased at 232 North Cedar St. Mr. Dreyer at present is in business in Banning, but was called home by the serious illness of their son, Francis, which marred the great pleasure they felt in returning to Glendale. Two weeks ago Francis underwent an operation for appendicitis at Thornycroft Hospital, but is making a good recovery.

Henry, the second son, has been discharged from the Navy and is at home.

William Dreyer, who was an efficient member of the public library force while here, is still in the Navy.

WORK OF BROADWAY CHURCH

Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Higby, who came to this city about a year ago, say they are just as much in love with Glendale as they were when they chose it for their home on arriving in Southern California. Mr. Higby is pastor of the Broadway Church on North Broadway near the court house and his interests and activities naturally center there. The women of that church last year served luncheons for the Ministerial Association which meets monthly in Los Angeles and will probably continue that work this year. Their first luncheon of that kind was served this week and was quite a big affair. The Broadway is one of five associate mission churches and its women have charge of the Japanese Mission work in Los Angeles.

NEIGHBORHOOD IMPROVEMENT

The property vacated by the Small family at 1420 South Brand boulevard was bought by Kemper Campbell, whose home adjoins it on the north. Mr. Campbell is moving the house to the southeast corner of the lot and will renovate it to be occupied by his mother and sister who will move out from Los Angeles to take possession of it when ready for their occupancy. Mr. Campbell plans on the balance of the ground to put in an Italian garden, and otherwise improve it with shrubbery and trees. The neighbors are very much delighted as it has not heretofore been a very attractive piece of property.

CHAPTER A. H. OF P. E. O.

Chapter A. H. of the P. E. O. had its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. John Hobbs on South Central avenue Tuesday afternoon. It was their regular business session and no luncheon was served. So far no philanthropic work has been planned except the support of the French orphan adopted by the organization. Its meeting day was formerly Friday but that has been changed to the first and fourth Tuesday, the regular luncheon being served on the last meeting day of the month.

CORONA MARSHAL SHOT TO DEATH

REST AT SAN BERNARDINO

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SAN BERNARDINO, October 8.—Diego Valdepeno, believed to be the murderer of City Marshal Alexander of Corona, is under arrest here awaiting identification by Corona officials and witnesses. The killing was one of the most sensational in recent years. Alexander was the bitter enemy of blind-piggers. He was shot to death by Mexicans who created a disturbance near his home in order to direct his attention to them. While attempting to quell the disturbance he was shot down in cold blood.

PLANE IN WHICH HE IS RIDING FALLS FIFTY FEET, BUT HE HAS ONLY SHAKING UP

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

MINEOLA, L. I., Oct. 8.—Benedict Crowell, Assistant Secretary of War, narrowly escaped injury today when an airplane in which he was riding fell fifty feet to the ground. Crowell and his pilot, Capt. Maurice Cleary, were buried under the machine, but escaped with only a shaking up. The accident occurred when Cleary tried to avoid striking a hangar. Crowell announced his intention of going up in another plane immediately after the accident.

PETITE IS IMPROVED AND HE IS MUCH BETTER

SENATOR JOHNSON HAS LARGE AUDIENCES

TWO THOUSAND TURNED AWAY AT PORTLAND—HE SPEAKS TONIGHT IN TACOMA, ON LEAGUE OF NATIONS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

RADICAL LITERATURE SEIZED

INDIANA OUTBREAKS SAID TO BE DUE TO "RED" AGITA-
TORS WHO FOMENT RIOTS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

GARY, Ind., Oct. 8.—Armed intelligence officers seized today nearly a ton of radical literature in raids on "Red" centers. Major General Leonard Wood declared that the outbreaks here were caused by "Red" agitators whose only desire seems to be to foment riots. Federal agents are co-operating with the troops who are in charge of the city.

PENNSYLVANIA TRANSCONTINENTAL FLYERS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 8.—Three airplanes entered in the trans-continental Derby were forced to land near here today. One of them was being piloted by Lieutenant Taylor, who said he had lost his bearings. After receiving information he took to the air and headed for Binghamton. The other two planes still are in the fields near Sugar Notch.

CANYON CHECK DAMS

EXPENDITURES FOR THIS PUR-POSE IN FLOOD CONTROL WILL PROBABLY REACH $200,000.

If one were to try to locate the chief concern of Los Angeles county and were to ask intelligent, well-posted men of the county to name it, nine out of ten would say "flood control." We have been through some pretty serious experiences along this line which have cost more than the thousands upon thousands of dollars expended to repair the damage. Now that forest fires have denuded some of our hills and canyons, the outlook is even more serious than in the past and calls for immediate, intelligent and extensive work for the season of rainfall is rapidly approaching, they say.

The check dams which have been employed to a limited extent to check the first rush of water in the canyons are more discussed than almost any other phase of control work by the men most intimately acquainted with flood behavior. Knowing that Engineer Frank H. Olmstead, of 1431 Pacific avenue, this city, was one of the first to urge their use in this locality, he was asked for some detailed information relative thereto, and possible needs in that line here. He said:

"The fact that Verdugo Canyon has a large settling basin above the Narrows of the Montrose Section does away with the absolute necessity there, but there are many places in small canyons where such dams have made perennial streams. I know of one such little arroyo of 22 acres. We went in there and put in check dams. Before that time there had never been water in the canyon except during a rain. A week after it would be dry. Now there is always water there and the willows are so thick you cannot get up the canyon. That means it is perennial. The cost will run say $20 to $30 for they are built out of material on the land. I have built lots of them that only cost $5 00. It would solve the flood control problem. The concrete dam in the Arroyo Seco at the Devil's (Continued on Page 4)

LITERARY SECTION

The first meeting of the literary section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club was held at the home of the curator, Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, on the afternoon of October 7th.

An outline of the splendid program laid out for the year was presented by the curator and was received by the members with hearty approval. It means work, but it will be profitable.

Mrs. Danford, who was the speaker of the day, gave a synopsis of work carried on at the library and assured members of the desire of the staff to serve them in all possible ways by providing them with books of reference, looking up authorities, and aiding in any other way possible. It was a fine, inspiring talk on "Service," which was much enjoyed by members of the section.

Another treat was the recitation by Joy Willisford of three original poems on which she has received prizes from the Woman's Home Companion in which they have been published. Joy is a little girl about 9 years of age and the poems show great promise.

Delicious home-made cake and tea were served by the hostess and a social half-hour was enjoyed following the program. The meetings of the section which are held twice a month, will all take place at the home of the curator.

LIBRARY BOARD MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Glendale Public Library Board was held Tuesday evening at the library. Trustees present were Chairman O. Spencer, Mr. Preston, Mrs. Temple and City Librarian, Mrs. Danford.

As the new juvenile room in the basement is nearing completion various matters relating to tinting the walls, heating apparatus and furnishings and equipment were taken up by the board.

Mrs. Danford presented a schedule for the opening of the juvenile department, which was approved by the board. Among other regulations, which will be published later, it provides for the opening of the juvenile room from 9 a. m. to 8:30 p. m.

Mrs. Danford also announced that a training class is being organized which will participate and provide for the increased interest which the enlarged department will arouse.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Thursday. No decided change in temperature.

TENT MEETING

LARGER, MORE RESPONSIVE AU-DIENCES ENCOURAGE EVAN-GELISTS

A larger audience and seemingly a more responsive one greeted Evangelist Von Bruch and his corps of fellow workers at the tent meeting on Wilson avenue Tuesday evening. The singing under the inspiring leadership of Mr. Clark was spontaneous. The union choir and orchestra composed of musicians and singers from all the churches, and the united support of the Christian Endeavor, Epworth League and Baptist Union young people all helped. The bond of sympathy and common interest between the preacher and his hearers was more firmly knit than the night before and he held them with absorbed and respectful attention; for there has been no entertaining sensational clap-trap in his speech or manner thus far, nor any of the harsh denunciations and tirades that sometimes mark revival addresses. Instead he seems tremendously in earnest in his desire to preach the gospel of Jesus in simplicity and love.

A point which he enforced, particularly in concluding his address, was that the Christ message is endowed with power and the sincere believer who desires to bring others to Christ does not have to wait for preparation or equipment before beginning the work. He said: "It is not you, but God back of you that does the work. God wants somebody he can use. It is just a little bread but when it is blessed by The Master it feeds the multitude. You may not have much to give, but let Him break it and bless it and it will go far. The great need in Glendale is willingness. I hope tonight as never before that you will look up, with willing hearts and say: Lord Jesus you can count on me."

DELIVERY OF PAPERS

Subscribers for the Evening News are asked to make complaint as to the non-delivery of the papers, or irregular deliveries. Make these complaints to Glendale 132. Conditions have been so that the service has not been good on some of the routes for the past several months, and with the opening of school the service has been made worse on account of the boys not getting started on their route until late in the afternoon. We solicit the co-operation of the subscribers in making it possible to give good delivery service.

HAROLD H. STORY

Harold H. Story, who attracted much notice during the war on account of his pronounced pacifism and who was confined in a conscientious objectors' camp at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, for some time, is again in the limelight through the announcement of his engagement to Miss Ruth Le Prade, of Whittier, a member of the pacifist group to which Story belonged. He and his parents now live in Belleflower. They formerly resided in this city and Harold was graduated from Glendale Union High School, where he distinguished himself in oratory winning first place in the inter-class oratorical and later the Southern California championship in the Inter-Scholastic Contest in 1912. After leaving here he is said to have become a rabid socialist. His marriage to Miss Le Prade is announced for the near future and it is said the young people will go north to Berkeley, where Harold will enter the State University. Miss Le Prade is a poetess and is reputed to be a protegee of Edwin Markham.

SNEAK THIEVES

James L. Grose thinks a warning should be sounded that sneak thieves are operating in Glendale and citizens need to be careful about locking their doors. He recites the experience he and Mrs. Grose had a few evenings ago when they observed a man loitering in the hall of the apartment building in which they live. When asked what he wanted he pretended he was looking for an apartment. His attention was called to a conspicuous sign stating that there were no apartments for rent in the building and he went away. A day or two later Mrs. Grose missed her watch and pocket-book which she knew was in the apartment, but which she has been unable to find although the most careful search has been made. It is the theory of Mr. Grose that the man who accosted them was a sneak thief spying out the lay of the land and that after he talked with them he watched his chance when Mrs. Grose left her apartment for a moment to slip in and rob her.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1919

THE COMMON PEOPLE HAVE AN OPINION

There is a strong tendency in these days of the after-war conflict for a certain class of citizens to discredit the loyalty to country of their fellowmen who do not believe just as they believe. The principle involved in such actions is entirely contrary to the teachings of the constitution of the United States.

The man or woman who is careful not to encourage the encroachments of foreign countries upon the rights of our citizens is not disloyal to his country, but rather shows himself by such a stand to be 100 per cent American.

College professors are pointed out by advocates of the ratification of the League of Nations document as it now stands as examples of great and wise men whose advice is worth heeding. It will be remembered too that in the colleges and universities of our land there were strong advocates of pro-Germanism at the opening of the war. It is the opinion of the humble, practical, every-day-on-the-job American that counts for much in these days of unsettled conditions. The men who have an ear close to mother earth and the boys who have just returned from across the sea have very decided opinions as to what position the United States should take in ratifying the League of Nations covenant as it is now presented.

Upon entering the world war early in 1917 the United States had no selfish motives and that can not be said of all the other countries engaged in the war. The armistice was signed and the peace treaty is before the world without the United States asking for one foot of additional territory or one cent of indemnity. France and England have not shown a record as clean as this. Now that the war has come to a close these countries are asking for and will get additional territory.

We do not object to these countries extending their boundaries but there are many people who do object to the ratification of a League that will compel the boys of the United States to embark for foreign countries and engage in war under French and British officers to assist these countries in holding their newly acquired possessions. Think this question over, fathers and mothers—it is a serious one. We should be slow to sanction any bargain with foreign nations that will allow other nations to use our young men to help them to hold their possessions.

The Evening News will not label any fellow-citizen as pro-German because he favors the League of Nations as now presented for ratification, neither will we denounce anyone as training with the I. W. W. who does not coincide with us in his opinion on this question. You are asked to seriously consider this important question, not from the standpoint of what we wanted—President Wilson presented the fourteen points which were very satisfactory to us—but from the standpoint of what the document really contains now. Every citizen of the United States favors a no-more-war bargain of some kind with the foreign nations, but not many favor giving up our rights and the rights of our children to foreign powers.

A Pasadena man says the Star-News has invented a clock that will tell the time all over the world at once—twenty-four clocks all in one, as it were, each representing the time in a certain section of the earth's surface. A great little idea, but just think: if such a clock were late, it would be late in twenty-four different ways.

A sick man in Los Angeles won the $10,000 prize offered for the invention of a machine that will stamp a brand on walnuts. That will probably make the other contestants sick too.

Miss Fish married Mr. Baker at Long Beach recently. A regular planked shad affair as it were.

Talk about adventures!

Men in the Navy come home with the kind of experiences that most chaps read of only in the books.

Here's your chance!

Uncle Sam has, as you know, a big Navy and gives red-blooded young fellows like you an opportunity to step aboard and “shove off”.

What will you get out of it?

Just this:

A chance to rub elbows with foreign folks in strange parts of the world.

The chance for good honest work on shipboard—the kind of work that teaches you something real: the kind of work that puts beef on your shoulders and hair on your chest.

You will get 30 care-free vacation days a year, not counting shore leave in home or foreign ports.

You will have the kind of comradeship in travel that sailors know.

You will have regular pay, over and above your meals, lodging and your first uniform outfit—good stuff all of it.

You can join for two years. When you get through you'll be physically and mentally “tuned up” for the rest of your life. You'll be ready through and through for SUCCESS.

There's a Recruiting Station right near you. If you don't know where it is, your Postmaster will be glad to tell you.

Mrs. J. K. Hill, Mrs. W. A. Tanner, Mrs. V. M. Hollister and Mrs. K. M. Brown were the guests from Glendale at a luncheon, given Wednesday, by Mrs. Hattie Halversen, at her residence on Halldale avenue in Los Angeles.

L. C. Brand made a week-end trip to North Island, San Diego, in his private airplane driven by his mechanic, Elon Brown. The journey which covered about 140 miles was made in an hour and twenty minutes. They left from and returned to Mr. Brand's landing station in Glendale.

W. G. Boyd of Glendale has the contract for the erection of the $16,000 residence, which R. A. Peterson is building in Los Angeles. This handsome home is on Scerano street, between Eighth and Ninth, in what is known as the Wilshire district, one of the finest residence parts of the city.

She expects to get home about the third of November.

To the mutual pleasure of pastor and congregation of the West Glendale Methodist Church, Rev. W. W. Cookman, present incumbent, has been returned to this charge by the Methodist Conference, which has just closed its sessions at Santa Barbara. Mr. Cookman is the only one of the Glendale pastors returned to this field and he is very glad that his work is to continue in surroundings which he has found most pleasant and congenial. The members of the congregation are equally pleased and with such harmony prevailing, no doubt much good will be accomplished.

The first meeting of the club was held Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock in the auditorium of the Intermediate School.

Miss Nadine Crump addressed the club, speaking in the interest of the University Extension Department of the University of California.

Following this an important business meeting was held. A committee on "Americanization" was appointed, and the following resolution unanimously adopted:

"Believing that the treaty of peace and the covenant for a League of Nations, extends to all the world the principles of the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution of the United States, and the Monroe Doctrine, and believing that its endorsement is the most important obligation before the United States Senate, we, the Glendale City Teachers' Club, urge its support by all right-thinking people."

At the close of the meeting a social half hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served by the social committee.

A bill has been introduced to provide for a Federal loan board and to appropriate $2,000,000 for an own-your-own-home plan, and along about election some congressman may ask for a billion or so with which to start an own-your-own-auto scheme.

TIME TO BE GETTING DOWN TO WORK

Laziness is the privilege of age. When a man's years begin to decline, when his natural vigor and driving impulse begin to slow down, then, and then only, does loafing become a permissible indulgence.

The strain of the war time aged men beyond their years. There were four years of incessant tension, every emotion was keyed to breaking point; physical endurance and mental endurance both had to work overtime. And we won. The war is over, we have to face the inevitable consequences of the strain. Joyousness and light-heartedness seem to have taken wing from the earth. Everybody is deadly serious, and far more deadly than serious. Cynicism is usurping the realm of humor, spent fires are more in fashion than new kindled flames, and we are a tired nation. This is a natural after effect; it is the national headache after the national debauch, but it is high time that we threw off the spell. Our power of resistance is weakening; in official affairs and in home life self-control and discipline are suffering from reaction from war strain.

People acclaim the lure of the "good time" and the life of the moment without thought of the future—but behind it all there is the still small voice of conscience, which incessantly tells us that we are doing a stupid wasteful thing, that is only expedient at the moment. Wisdom and common sense are often stern, unpalatable dishes that sacrifice the savor of the present for the gain of the immeasurable years. The desire not to work must be conquered. We must shake off the seductive lure of laziness, and the young man and the middle-aged man must discipline themselves to work, not so much to make money as to regain for the country the happiness and the stability that we have lost.—Milwaukee Journal.

NEW HOME FOR ELKS' LODGE 99

The relations between B. P. O. E. Lodge No. 99, of Los Angeles, and the Glendale organization are so close and cordial that Elks here are interested in the site which has just been chosen for lodge quarters which promise to be the finest in the world. Property at the northwest corner of Eighth and Flower streets has been purchased for a consideration of $275,000. It has a frontage of 115 feet and a depth of 165 feet and the plans now being considered call for the construction of a million-dollar building.

One pharisee insists that the United States should become mandatory for Armenia because England, France and Italy cannot be trusted. He should have said "cannot be induced."

REV. C. H. SCOTT

ing people of the past fifty years have been brought to Ocean Grove in the summer time.

"Our idea is to make such an institution here to become the great educational and religious summer resort of the southwest. There is a possibility it may remain in its present location and be much expanded though the likelihood is against that because it is in a town already platted and sold out and there will be a lack of space for what we want to accomplish. It will, however, be established somewhere on the coast near Los Angeles where abundant room is to be secured and where it will be easily accessible. The whole question is to be taken up and reviewed from the standpoint of giving this section what we ought to have without respect to what we now have.

"It is my idea that when this institution is built, while I will represent the Methodist end, it ought to be an expression of interdenominational cooperation, a great summer city for religious and educational life. This kind of a community should be so built that the various denominations would center there, each with its own program and at certain points not denominational would come together. My thought is to locate a summer group of religious training schools around the camp or city to which the outstanding personalities of our times will be brought for evening programs while the day sessions will be under denominational auspices, that is, the evening sessions will be under the associated, interdenominational auspices.

"It is a dream which it will take years to fulfill, but when it is accomplished it will be something like Northfield, Mass., Bay View, Michigan, Winona, Indiana, or Lake Shore, Ohio, where the property investment runs up to a million or so in value. They have a whole summer of high-grade educational and religious life there.

"The old-fashioned idea of the camp meeting has about worn itself out and in its place has come an institution no less evangelistic which carries along with it the other features of religious information and training and has a much broader scope."

STATE NEWS

(By United Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—Representatives of seventy-two posts in California of the American Legion assembled here today in the first state convention of the Legion.

The convention was called to order by Colonel Henry G. Mathewson, state chairman of the American Legion.

Efforts will be made by local representatives to prevent moving state headquarters to Los Angeles. It is understood Southern California delegates will make an organized fight to have the main office installed in the south.

Action will be taken on alleged discrimination made against ex-servicemen, who have found difficulty in returning to the former positions. Complaints will be heard in this regard and acted upon by the committees.

The convention will continue to the 10th, when it will be closed by a grand ball at the Palace Hotel.

Soldiers, sailors, marines and women in the service of the United States government in army and navy work are represented by the legion. Mrs. Virginia Whitmore will represent former service women of San Francisco. Mrs. Whitmore was a yeomanette during the recent unpleasantness in Europe.

A man posing as a member of the Y. M. C. A. gained access to the Y. M. locker rooms at Santa Barbara the other day and stole four hundred dollars worth of valuables from members who had trustfully left their lockers unlocked. One member entered the locker room just as the thief was leaving, and thinking he was a member just finishing dressing after his exercise, he inquired, "Feel better?" "Yes, thank you; much better," the thief replied, and passed on out with the four hundred.

Dressed in Williams-Wear the lady of the house need not tremble and grow faint at the sound of the door bell even though she be engaged in the weekly cleaning or laundry, the preparation of dinner or washing the dishes.

SOME DISTINCTIVE FEATURES OF WILLIAMS-WEAR DRESSES

Gate is a good thing of which I entirely approve. Outside of that the money should be spent on check dams.

"These check dams, as I have indicated, are small, inexpensive structures placed in mountain ravines to prevent the rapid run-off of water which have fallen on the steep mountain slopes and which, when they reach the trough of the canyon, are shunted down very rapidly in the steep grades of these troughs unless they are blocked by obstructions. The purpose of check dams is first to prevent this rapid discharge from the upper areas by creating a small hydraulic head at the dam which discharges the water back into the interstices of the soil and cleavage lines of the rock. The danger of flood in the lower region is from the fact that the upper water has discharged its crest flow so much more rapidly than the lower lateral canyons that they all emerge somewhat simultaneously from the mouth of the canyon. By checking the upper waters the crest from the lower laterals escapes from the mouth of the canyon before the crest from the upper laterals reaches that point.

"The experiments made by the County of Los Angeles were carried out after the flood of February, 1914, proved conclusively that not alone could the flood crest be virtually eliminated but that all during the balance of the year the water supply in the cone below the mouth of the canyon would be reinforced so that the elevation of the water plane in Haines Canyon today is eight feet higher than ever known before whereas elsewhere in the county the water plane is lower than ever known before.

"The present flood control administration of Los Angeles county has approximately $100,000 for this mountain check dam work, but owing to the fires in the Pacoima, Tujunga and San Gabriel River water sheds, it is now proposed to expend larger sums which will probably reach $200,000.

"The cost of these structures is approximately $25 apiece and it can be roughly stated that $20,000 per square mile where the watersheds are not burned over would provide sufficient retardation to accomplish the purpose.

"In Switzerland the government in 1868 started building retardation works in the Alps and has developed the plan further than any other nation, though Germany, Austria, Italy and Japan have expended large sums of money on this kind of construction. It is thought within the next ten years there will be many millions of dollars expended on our west coast in this way.

"In Haines Canyon in 1913 the flood crest was 724 cubic feet per second per square mile of drainage after it was burned off and before the check dams were put in. Now it has the smallest crest run of any stream."

"Mr. Olmstead also spoke of the great importance of "re-brushing" the water sheds. Nature will do it in time if let alone, but she could be materially assisted, he says, by the seeding of the burned areas now without waiting for the slower processes. Government experts have declared that the brush cover is of more value to the water shed than the forest trees because it produces and holds so much of the moisture-holding humus.

MANUFACTURING CENSUS STARTS IN JANUARY

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—A statistical picture of manufacturing in the United States will be obtained by 1,500 special agents of the Census Bureau, who will begin collection of information January 24, when the decennial population count is started.

The manufacturing census, however, is separate. The last one was made for 1914. It showed factories under normal conditions for seven months, after which the world war was in progress, and a temporary industrial depression occurred. The coming census, which will cover the year 1919, will show factories in the transition from a war to a peace time basis.

It is estimated it will find there are approximately 300,000 manufacturing plants, employing between 9,000,000 and 10,000,000 persons, and having an annual output valued at from 40 to 50 billions.

After 1920, manufacturing censuses are to be made biennially. They will show wages, costs, value and nature of output, and other detailed facts.

IMPORTANT TO VOTERS

An important election will take place in Glendale, Nov. 12th next. Voters must be registered in the precinct in which they reside 30 days preceding an election. Saturday, October 11th, 1919, registration for this election will close.

Voters, who continue to reside in the precinct in which they have registered any time since Jan. 1st, 1918, do not need to register. Others should do so immediately.

DEMobilIZATION CAMP TO BE DISCONTINUED

(By United Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—The Demobilization Camp at the Presidio will soon be a thing of the past. Most of the men from France have been discharged, and when the last troops are returned from Siberia the office will close and the "soldier-to-civilian" machine will cease to operate.

The demobilization office is at present turning the returned soldiers from khaki to civies in twenty-four hours, and at the rate of 300 a day. The record day was last April when 1250 were discharged. Over 55,000 have been given their unconditional release by Uncle Sam.

All men are paid in cash for full pay on discharge besides the $60 bonus and travel allowance.

We notice in the news reports that a man from Inglewood was fined for leaving a camp fire burning near Elsinore. We are glad of this, for two reasons. First, it will call attention to the dangers of starting forest fires, and second, it will help to put Inglewood on the map.

LOVE ONE ANOTHER

The wheel of time keeps rolling on,
Although we may not hear it;
Another year has swiftly gone;
The end,—we daily near it.
'Twere vain to grieve for what is past,
'Tis wiser to endeavor
To make this better than the last;
The time is now or never.

What have we done? Does aught remain,
As fruit of last year's labor?
Have we relieved a brother's pain,
Or soothed a suffering neighbor?
Is there a heart less sad today?
A tearful eye made brighter?
Or pilgrim trudging on his way,
Whose burden we made brighter?

What have we done, for which our heart
Can silently commend us?
Have we with courage borne our part,
When fates did not befriend us?
We do not need to look abroad
For failings of a brother,
Our duty is:—Whatever comes,—
That we should love each other.

Common Causes of Tire Injury

□ Tips That Will Save You Dollars □

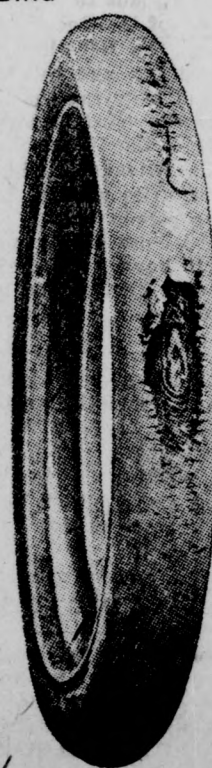

By M. D. BIXBY
Los Angeles Branch Manager, B.F. Goodrich Rubber Co.

DISASTROUS EFFECTS OF SKIDDING
Skidding or locking the brakes and sliding the wheels results in serious and uncalculated damage to the tires. It also has a ruinous effect on the mechanism of the motor car. It subjects the tires to an unusual strain in addition to the work which they must perform in supporting and propelling the car and its load.

The accompanying illustration clearly shows how the tread may literally be torn from the carcass of a tire as a result of this practice. Automobile owners should be brought to realize that their cars will stop quicker if brakes are applied gradually and firmly rather than sharply. Improperly adjusted brakes sometimes will cause the wheels to lock, thus grinding or tearing off a section of the tire.

To make certain that both brakes take hold evenly the rear axle should be jacked up so that neither wheel rests on the ground; then start the engine and engage the clutch. When the foot brake is applied, if one rear wheel revolves while the other remains stationary, or, if one wheel turns faster than the other, excessive wear to the tread rubber of the wheel turning slowest may be expected. This will continue unless the brake drums are evenly adjusted.

As soon as a car starts to skid it should be steered, if possible, in the direction of the skid. Cars carefully driven ordinarily will not skid except under abnormal conditions. The rapid turning of corners increases the strain and wear on tires with the same ultimate effect as skidding and sliding. Skidding greatly shortens the life of a tire, and the car owner who carefully avoids this practice secures ultimate mileage on his investment.
